OUR APPROACH TO COURSES AND PROGRAMS

TAILORED DESIGN TO THE NEEDS OF THE AUDIENCE

We have a broad and deep catalogue of content that covers a wide array of topics related to the people side of business. But we also have an appreciation of the uniqueness of our clients' experiences and needs. Whether it's a single workshop or in-depth program, we always seek to tailor our content and approach to the real-world dynamics of the participants.

INTERACTIVE FACILITATION

Learning isn't just about sharing new information. Our team knows that for there to be an expansion of thought and evolution of capabilities, participants have to be actively engaged. Whether we are facilitating virtually or in-person, we design our programs to get participants' minds activated. We use dynamic activities, games, scenarios and discussions to bring the content to life for everyone.

INCLUDES PRACTICAL TOOLS AND RESOURCES

A primary goal of our developmental events is to enable on-the-job application. In every one of our courses and programs, we embed tools, guides and frameworks that can be used to take what's learned in the session and integrate it into the work people perform-

AVAILABLE FOR VIRTUAL OR IN-PERSON DELIVERY

We adapt the above principles to the format that best meets the needs of our clients. We are experienced in facilitating virtual, in-person and hybrid engagements.

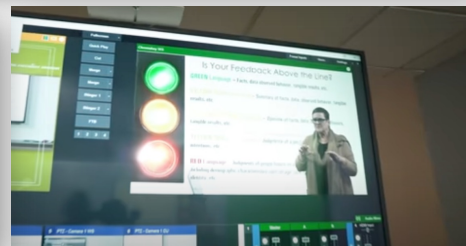

THE STUDIO EXPERIENCE FOR VIRTUAL TRAININGS

We recognize the critical role that virtual training plays in our clients' development efforts. The convenience, cost-effectiveness and scalability has significantly increased the demand for this method of training.

We ensure all of our virtual events have built-in group discussions and activities so our sessions are more than simply talking heads that lecture.

There are times when the virtual learning should align closer with the in-person training. Therefore, we offer a more engaging and interactive remote approach using our Studio Experience. This format incorporates our on-site studio allowing us to offer a more captivating experience when conducting virtual workshops, team building events and coaching engagements.

The Studio Experience uses the advantage of intriguing visual elements, interactive backgrounds and professional video and audio broadcast beyond static virtual platforms to ensure the learning, content and facilitation create the participation and impact closer to in-person training.

If you're planning on virtual training, consider adding this option as part of the experience.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT CATEGORIES

EXECUTIVE LEADER

Executive leaders have a different role than they've held in their careers up to this point.

This includes expanding from skills focused on team management to running the business of a function, department or segment.

A common challenge faced by senior leaders is transitioning from a tactical leader to a strategic one.

Our courses, programs and coaching services are focused on helping senior leaders build the credibility and make the strategic impact they need in this complex and elevated role.

KEY TOPICS

DEMONSTRATING EXECUTIVE PRESENCE

- Practice key behaviors that build credibility as a senior leader
- Establish unique leadership brand to foster trust
- Model and develop inclusive work environments based on own leadership style

UNDERSTANDING THE ROLE OF AN EXECUTIVE LEADER

- Determine primary responsibilities of an executive leader vs. team manager
- Develop skills for setting and driving strategic direction for organizations
- Shift from people management to leading leaders

PERFORMING AS A SENIOR LEADER TEAM (SLT)

- Identify how to coach others through resistance

PLANNING FOR RESOURCES

- Conduct effective needs assessments throughout the life of the project
- Practice pitching and negotiating for talent and resources
- Manage expectations based on goals

INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTOR

Individual contributors are the backbone of an organization's success. They have the closest connection to the client and customer base.

The skills needed are diverse and based on the unique roles and experience levels of each person. However, there are common topics that individual contributors can benefit from understanding.

The development often focuses on how to make it easier for them to bring their full selves to the job, collaborate with others and carve out their own career path.

KEY TOPICS

SETTING & MEETING GOALS

- Set goals that align with the bigger picture and inform day-to-day performance decisions
- Drive performance discussions to gain feedback, surface issues and gain support needed

INTACT TEAM PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY PROGRAM

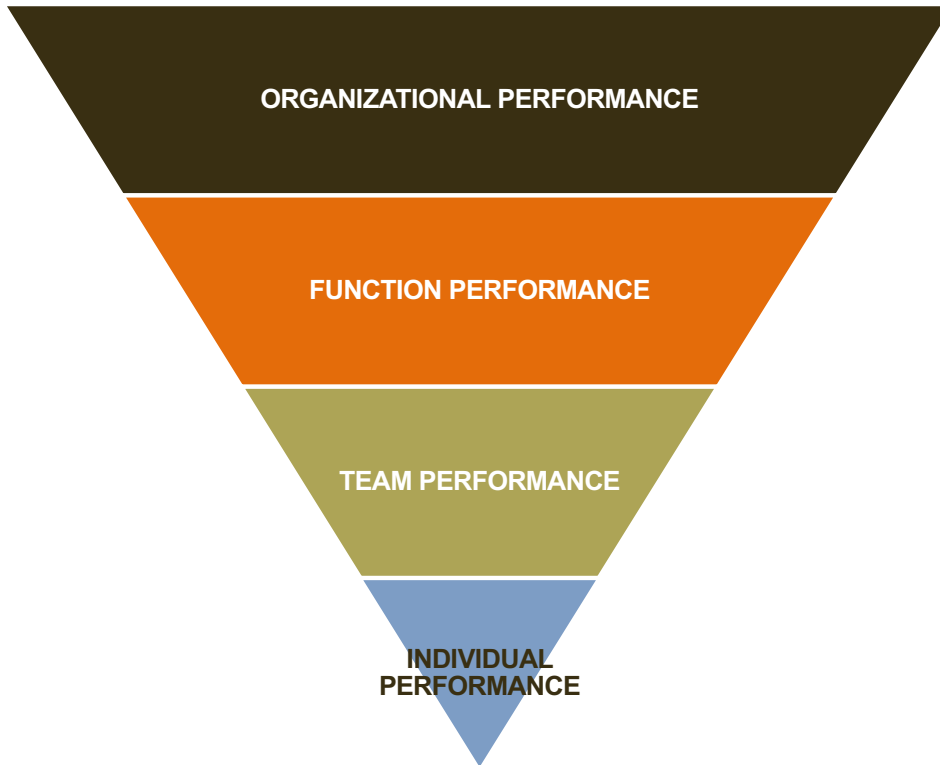

Team development often requires a deeper exploration into how people feel about the established team culture. This goes beyond the surface topics that tend to focus on best practices. This program is based on Amy Edmondson's book, "The Fearless Organization," and is designed to create a foundation of trust and understanding so that team members can share their authentic concerns and experiences. This can help resolve conflicts that are eroding team performance and feelings of inclusion. It can help foster greater self-awareness around how we are impacting one another and how to commit to fostering a supportive, collaborative and inclusive team culture.

PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

We can help your organization create truly meaningful and impactful performance management throughout the organization. Our approach focuses on a year-round cadence that is rooted in quality and intentional dialogue.

We explore all four levels of performance management from organizational to individual performance. This way it effectively informs critical decisions such as assessing performance, assigning performance ratings (if applicable), making merit decisions and creating and aligning job opportunities.

Ideally, when the cornerstone conversations are being had in a consistent manner throughout the year, the data that is harvested is more reliable and less biased. This enables effective planning processes in the areas of talent, succession, resources and development.
